

The Original RockHound Rake

Pick-up rocks & debris while leveling

The RockHound Landscape Rake is designed to eliminate hand raking by removing rocks and debris as small as 3/4". Placing them into the bucket hopper while leveling the surface for a one step seed bed preparation process. This is the original RockHound landscape rake, one of the first five Bobcat attachments over 40 years ago. The RockHound Landscape Rake has been improved now with T-1 teeth mounted into a double channel replaceable tooth bar. The best got even better.

Features

- Picks up rocks and debris down to 3/4" (19mm) and puts it in the bucket.
- Hydraulic cylinder opens top cover for easy dumping and rough grading.
- Rake bars & cutting edge provide better leveling and longer ground contact.
- Replaceable, bolt on, reversible tooth bars standard.
- High strength T-1 teeth mounted in double channel iron for the longest life.
- Adjustable, replaceable side skids provide accurate depth control.
